REGISTRATION NOW OPEN

All students and staff members at the University of Johannesburg can now enrol for, and complete, the following short learning programmes:

(1) Artificial Intelligence in the 4IR: an introduction to artificial intelligence (AI), its applications, and its implications for society and the future of work in the Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR).

(2) African Insights: an introduction to the intellectual traditions and debates in Africa.

The programmes are free and fully online. A digital certificate will be issued on successful completion which may be viewed and shared with third parties or possible employers through the UJ Digital Certificate platform. For currently-registered UJ students, this achievement will also appear on your academic record. Both programmes are exciting, stimulating and relevant.
